Three-fourths of the children of Pittsburgh

The Ohio Agricultural College will begin, next month, its first session with two departments of study and six professors. The colored people of Memphis urge that when it is possible their educational board shall appoint solored teachers for their schools. It has been proposed, with some dissent, that the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute; at Troy shall be incorporated with Union College. Ex-President Hopkins of Williams College has been appointed Provisional Professor of Mental and Moral Philosophy at Bowdoin College.

The scholastic authorities of St. Paul, Minersota, are said to recommend music and dancing for public consideration in connection with the public

Charles F. Adams, now with Prof. Agassiz at Penekese Island, has been engaged to teach the ciences in the High School at Fitchburg, at a salary of

Dr. William C. Tilden, formerly of Middlebury, has resigned the position as Professor in the How-ard University at Washington, D. C., and accepted the position of chemist in the office of the Eric Railroad in Prof. Charles Fairman of Shurtleff College, Prof. Chartee Familia, has accepted the position of Principal in the new Cook Academy, at Elmira, N. Y. The founder of the scheol, Mr. E. W. Cook, has lately given it $40,000, and others have given $5,000 more.

Prof. A. K. Yancy, jr. of Richmond, Va., has Jewell College, at Liberty, Mo., and Prof. L. M. Ward of Ottawa, Kansas, to the principalship of the preparatory department of the same institution.

The Mayor of Providence, by a peculiar reading of the School laws, has discovered that a school year is one of only ten months, and that, therefore, teachers are to lose two months' salary. This certainly seems a very petty decision, and one decidedly uncomfortable for a class of hard-working people.

tion receive tuition free at Center Coilege, Danville, Ky. The same is accorded also to all young men of limited means and good character. The authorities hope before the close of the present session to furnish and states that the institution is the oldest Presbyterian

Here is a little New-England town which cerainly does not lack available intelligence. Derry, N. H., during the last three years has furnished Dartmouth College with a class leader, a captain of the College nine (base-bali), and one of the Dartmouth "Giants" for the in the college. It has now four resident Dartmouth Alumni, and will have seven in Dartmouth College by Over 60 students have already been admitted on the first examination at Dartmouth, and it is thought that at the conclusion of the Autumn examination the class will number nearly 100. Among those admitted is Henry Webb, a colored boy from Manchester, who was brought from Richmond, Va., eight years ago, and who at that time did not know his letters. He has finished a four years' course at the high school, and passed a creditable examination.

The Government grant of land for the establishment of agricultural schools seems to have been the signal for a series of growls against such schools. Critics are continually arising who declare that they are on the whole useless and are not practical since they give more general intellectual culture than they do agriculture. As an illustration of this position is constantly presented that unfortunate fact that the Massachusetts school, which has been longest established and has been looked upon as a model, gave diplomas edgnified their intention to till the soil, the rest going into business or professional pursuits.

Three years ago the Colorado Legislature appropriated nearly $4,000 for the erection of a brick building to be used for a School of Mines. This sum proved insufficient, and Bishop Randall, feeling the ne cessity and importance of such a school, began the work of fitting up the institution, finishing the interior, and furnishing it with the necessary apparatus. The services of Prof. Mallett have been secured, and he has aircady entered upon his duties; other teachers and decturers have been engaged, and on the first Wednesday in September the Department of Physics will be

It was stated at the Commencement exercises of the Yale Theological School last May, that the number of students during the past year had been so unexpectedly large that additional funds and accomdations had become necessary. One hundred and sixty thousand dollars was the sum named, half of which was be secured before the 1st of August. This has now been done, the subscriptions being in sums varying from $10,000 to $500, with a few of still smaller amount. The fund is to be applied to the building of another structure west of the Marquand Chapel, which will be a counterpart of the original one. With this handsome better endowment of its professorships and an increase in its scholarship fund.

The Missouri Department of Public Schools has determined to arrange a system of lectures to be eperated in connection with the public school system of the State. A circular addressed by the Superintendent to the School Boards of all towns gives this general outline: "1. The course to consist of five or six lectures. 2. The lecturers are to serve for no stipulated sum, but after the necessary expense of hall, advertising, and the traveling expenses of the lecturer are paid, he is to re-ceive, as compensation, half the balance. 3. The remaining half of the net profits of the course is to be devoted to the establishment or maintenance of a town or public school circulating library. 4. Success, as all experience in this matter proves, requires a course rather than occasional single lectures. 5. As soon as the course is determined upon, the State Superintendent will furnish a list of the best lecturers, from which list the Lecture Committee will select the required number. Then, as soon as all the towns desiring lectures are heard from, the Superintendent will arrange the 'time card' for the State, and report the result immediately to the Boards or Committees. The first lecture of the course ought to take place by the first week in November." This is an excellent idea, and one that deserves to be copied elsewhere.

The Massachusetts State Board of Examiners has just published its report on the second annual exhibition of the Free Industrial Drawing Classes. It men-tions particularly the success of the Lowell school in original designing for muslins, cashmeres, carpets, paper-hangings, and oil-cloths; condemns those drawings which are imperfect imitations of natural objects, and recommends that the teaching in drawing be adapted to the actual practical needs of the pupils as members of an industrial and manufacturing community, rather than to the attainment of a standard of excellence in execution, which can only be reached by devoting a large part of the time to the finishing of one or two pieces It suggests, 1, that the exhibitions be declared annual, and the time fixed at which they shall be held. For want of certainty on these points there is a good deal of hesitation in some parts of the State in preparing drawings for the exhibition, and its advantage as a stimulus to the schools is everywhere greatly impaired. 2. That the classification of the work in the schools according to the different stages es-tablished by the Board should be insisted upon as far as practicable. It would not only make the administration of the system more uniform and efficient, but would make it much easier than it now is to give a just award among the drawings exhibited. At present, good work of a lower grade is likely to suffer by being brought into comparison with work of a higher class. The label attached to each drawing should designate the class to which it belongs, and the awards of future committees should be given stage by stage. 3. That in future exhibitions the day schools throughout the State, as well as the night schools, should be represented. Gen. Eaton, the Commissioner of Education, has just published his third annual report. The table of public school expenditure in the several States per capita shows that Massachusetts expends the largest amount, $20 06, and that the amounts paid in the other tes range from 65 cents, 4 mills, (North Carolina) to 212 13, 3 milis, (California.) As for progress in education in the different States during 1872, in the New-Eugland, Middle, and Western States, with a few exceptions, the edvance was steady and marked. In Delaware there was increased agitation upon the subject of education; of but this State had not effected any change in legislation, 12 the education of colored children. Delaware and Ken-tucky are the only States that had no prevision for the education of these children. The progress in Virguia was great in the majority of counties. In North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, and Tennessee, the inaction in country districts is deplorable. In the towns and cen-ters of population some important progress was made. In Kentucky the increase in educational interest was to kentucky the little progress was made. The prospect Forida but little progress was made. The prospect was favorable in Texas at the time the report was written, but since that time the free school system has been abolished by the late Legislature. There were 211 academies in the United States, with an aggregate attendance of 98,929, and 293 institutions reporting to the Bureau that class themselves as colleges, of which 30 only reported preparatory students, and 217 reported collegiate students. The 217 colleges reported 19,260 students in the collegiate course, of whom 1,419 were women. The number of institutions for the superior education of women was 175, with 1,617 instructors. of whom 449 were masculine and 1,168 feminine, with a

The Board of Trustees of the Pennsylvania Mechanics' High School lately met at Harrisburg. A permanent organization was made, lots being cast classify the nine elective members Board. An election for officers was held, and Wm. T. Hildrup was chosen President, the Hon. T. J. Bigham Secretary, and Henry Snyder Treasurer. The Board then discussed the subject, viz.: The best thing to be done under the provisions of the present bill, and what changes if any should be suggested. Mr. Hildrup, as a representative of the manufacturing in-terests of the State, said that too much ought not to be undertaken in the outset; that the great want of the day was American skilled labor, and if only twenty boys were instructed in a year for the present, it would be so much of a gain; and that they must not "despise the day of small things." He would offer as a reward to the boys in his manufactory the opportunity of attending a mechanics' high school for a time, that they might btain a theoretical knowledge of the branches of labor they were engaged in. He was willing, for his part, if the State would bear half of the expense, that so far as those employed by him were con-cerned, he would bear the other half. President Cattell of Lafayette College said that he did not come for the purpose of engrafting the school upon his own institution; that it had sufficient to do already and he would, if any change were made, rather do away with its Mechanical Department. It was its most expensive department, yet he believed that his own, or any similar institution, could do as much in making skilled mechanics, with $100,000, as the State could with $500,000, for the simple reason that they already have almost all the appliances necessary for that purpose. Prof. Goff of the Western University affirmed that the great want of Pittaburgh, especially among the manufacturers, was that not only of skilled laborers, but also of finding places where boys could be taught trades; that Pitts burgh manufacturers are anxious that something be done to keep those who are able and willing to learn occupations, but they have no opportunity. He assured the Board that they would have the hearty cooperation of Pittsburghers in the establishment of a school for that purpose; that Pittsburgh itself was well adapted for such a school, on account of its numerous factories, bridges, railroads, &c., &c., and its proximity to almost Western University have access, and to which they a frequently taken in order to examine and inspect for themselves. After a further interchange of opinion, it was resolved that the President tary of the Board send circulars to Mayors and Burgesses of the cities and boroughs of the monwealth asking for proposals as to what they were willing to do for the location and building of such a school. The Board also invites all Presidents of colleges to be present at its meeting to be held n the place on the first Tuesday of November next. The Board then adjourned to meet on the second Tuesday of September. We cordially hope that the organization of the school will proceed without delay and with immesires of a burglar who was trying to get in his frontdoor, by dropping the water pitcher on his head from the second story window. There is a man in Detroit who is so slovenly that his friends have to wash him and trim his hair and beard by force. He threatens a lawsuit, but is too lazy An insane patient of the Lancaster County (Penn.) Hospital secretly twined a line from the leaves of a peach tree; it was over 300 feet long, and strong enough to bear the weight of two men. A doctor of Portsmouth, N. H., wants the custom of telling bells for funerals discontinued. It has a depressing effect upon the sick, and cannot prove a source of much enjoyment to the departed. A sportive sturgeon leaped into a boat in the Savannah River, knocked down one of the crew, sprained the ankle of another, and then calmly floated off from the boat, which he had completely filled with A Cleveland, O., hackman, who tried to colect by force an exorbitant fare, was so frightened by his intended victim producing a revolver, that he sought a police station, and left the stranger to take care of his back, while he went to have him arrested. The following item gives a hint which seems worthy the careful consideration of all who have talkative wives: "The girls in a Springfield (Mass.) fac tory are supplied by the proprietors with chewing-gum, in order that they may not waste time in talking." A Detroit boy stood an umbrella, with a cord tied to it, in a public doorway. Eleven persons thought that umbrella was theirs, and carried it with them the length of the string. They then suddenly propped it and went off without once looking back or opping to pick it up again. The Shah, it appears, has the Oriental preference for fat women. Being shown some very adipose cows at the Home Farm at Windsor, he asked how they were fed. Being told that they were brought into this plump condition by a diet of oil cake, his interest was at once excited, and he said to his interpreter, "Ask if oil cake is good for wives."

TUESDAY, Aug. 12-P. M. This has been perhaps the dullest day at the Stock Exchange, so far as the amount of business is concerned, during the present year. Indeed, but for the activity in Pacific Mail there would hardly have been sufficient business to establish quotations. The general market opened firm, with Pacific Mail as the leading card, selling at 42, from which it advanced i, and subsequently, with varying fortunes, sold down to 391, and finally closed at 401. The contest between the bulls and bears in this fancy stock continues with but slightly abated interest, and the general public, with the exception of the very few who are fighting this particular "tiger," seem to take about the same degree of interest in the result as the good wife of the frontier took in a certain historical combat between her husband and a veritable live bear. But the bulls were just a little cowed to-day by a rumor of new litigation concerning Pacific Mail, and their desire to sell became almost as pressing as was the disposition to purchase yesterday. Hence the decline above noted. In sympathy with this decline the entire market yielded t to t per cent without any apparent disposition either to buy or sell any of the shares except Pacific Mail. After 12 o'clock a slight recovery set in under a temporary reaction in Pacific Mail, but the market soon gave way to weakness, and the whole list closed weak except Erie, which wound up at the best figures of the day. Dullness was the predominant feature of the afternoon business. After Pacific Mail the larger dealings were in Central, Eric, Ohios, Lake Shore, Western Union Telegraph, and C., C. and I. C. Harlem highest, lowest, and closing prices of leading stocks sold to-day were as follows: Lake Shore.... Wahash.... Glendinning, Davis & Amory's closing prices were:

advanced to 1321. but the other investments were without important movement. The miscellaneous and express shares were neglected. The opening,

The gold speculation has been as tame and listless, as usual, and all the sales, few in amount, were at 1151@1151 (1151 exceptionally), there being no special consideration affecting the market. Loans cost for carrying 3.21, 2, and 1 per cent per annum. The Assistant Treasurer paid out $15,000 in called bonds and $29,000 in coin interest. The day's business at the Gold Exchange Bank was as follows: Gold cleared, $28,373,000; gold balances, $813,100; currency balances, $934,542. The import of specie at this port for the week amounted to $79,159. The following were the quotations for gold: 10:90..1154, 11:30...1154, 11:00...1154, 2:30...1154, 10:30...1154, 12:00...1154, 13:00. The London advices report a steady tone to Consols and American securities, but money is more active and in the outside market within a quarter of the minimum discount rate at the Bank of England. This at first occasioned a firmer tone to the sight rates of exchange, though sixty days became an eighth lower, and afterward both classes of bills were lowered. We annex nominal quotations:

60 days. 3 days.

Extra mails for Europe to-morrow, per steamship Hansa, will close at 1; p. m., at the Merchants' Exchange, Nos. 50 and 52 Pine-st. The total exports of produce from this port for the week ending to-day amount to $5,276,814, which is a decrease from last week of $819,410. The exports for the corresponding period of last year were $5,278,242, and for 1871, $5,200,713. The total exports since Jan. l, this year, are $173,268,934, against $133,508,371 last year, and $141,285,945 in 1871, presenting a flattering: Money is without special change, and lent freely at 3 per cent on Government bonds, and 4 on ordinary Stock Exchange collateral, until near the close, when rates stiffened to 5. Time loans rupping through the year are negotiated at 7 per cent, and at 7@8 per cent for six months. Discounts are as last. United States bonds are very quiet to-day but, though gold is just a fraction lower, to-morrow the Treasury will purchase half a million bonds, inaugu-gramme. The general market closes firm on the basis of 119 to 119 for 1867's. Fisk & Hatch report as follows:

rating and closing that portion of the August pro-
